

Stacey Elliott

Stacey Elliott is currently the Investment Recovery Discipline Activity Specialist at the Dow Chemical Company. She graduated in 2002 from Central Michigan University with a Bachelor's of Science in Community Recreation Administration.

Stacey has held several positions in the 14 years at Dow; starting at the Methocel plant in 2002. She then moved onto the Building and Construction lab, Saran Polymers (Project Sapphire), Ethocel and landing in the Maintenance organization.

Stacey and her husband Craig combined, have 6 children. Bailey is 5 and a very excited mature kindergarten student. Ty is 11, Kyle is 13, Kathy is 17, Emily is 18, and Morgan is 22.

She enjoys camping, volleyball and spending time with her family and new puppy Zoe.

Her community involvement includes the Arnold Center Board of Directors, United Way Ambassador and Sharing Tree Ambassador. Her current role at Dow also allows her to donate surplus assets to nonprofits all around the state of Michigan but focusing primarily on the Great Lakes Bay Region.
